Entrance. Prokeimenon of the day. Three Readings:

A READING FROM PROVERBS

The memory of the righteous man calleth forth praises, and the blessing of the Lord is upon his head. Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding. For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold. She is more precious than costly stones; everything that is honored cannot be compared to her. Length of days and years of life are in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honor. Out of her mouth truth proceedeth, and law and mercy she carrieth on her tongue. Hear me, then, O children, for I will speak of excellent things; and happy is the man that will keep unto my ways, for my paths are the paths of life, and the desire is fashioned of the Lord. Wherefore, I entreat you and put forth my voice before the sons of men, for I with wisdom set up everything; I have called forth counsel, understanding and knowledge. Counsel is mine and sound wisdom, mine is understanding and strength is mine. I love them that love me, and those that seek me shall find grace. Understand, then, O ye simple, the cunning, and ye uninstructed-direct your hearts unto it. Hearken unto me again, for I will speak of honorable things, and the opening of my mouth shall be right things, for my mouth shall speak truth, and wickedness is an abomination to my lips. All the words of my mouth are in righteousness; there is nothing froward or perverse in them. They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge. For I will teach you the truth, so that your hope may be in the Lord and ye may be filled with the Spirit.

A READING FROM THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

The mouth of the righteous droppeth wisdom; the lips of wise men know grace. The mouth of wise men meditateth wisdom, and righteousness shall deliver them from death. At the death of a just man, his hope doth not perish. A righteous son is born for life; and a good man shall eat of the fruits of righteousness. The righteous always have light, and with the Lord they find grace and glory. The tongue of the wise knoweth what is good; there is wisdom in the good heart of a man. The Lord loveth holy hearts, and pleasing to Him are all the undefiled in the way. The wisdom of the Lord enlighteneth the countenance of the prudent; for she overtaketh those who desire her, in making herself first known unto them, and is easily seen of them that love her. Whoso seeketh her early shall have no great travail; and whoso watcheth for her shall quickly be without care. For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, and showeth herself favorably to them in the ways. Vice shall not prevail against wisdom. For this cause was I a lover of her beauty; and I loved her, and sought her out from my youth. I desired to make her my bride, for the Master of all Himself loved her. For she is privy to the mysteries of the knowledge of God, and a discloser of His works. Her labors are virtues: for she teacheth chastity and prudence, justice and fortitude, which are such things, as men can have nothing more profitable in their life. If a man desireth much experience, she knoweth things of old, and conjectureth aright what is to come. She knoweth subtleties of speech, and can expound obscure dreams; she foreseeeth signs and wonders, and the events of seasons and times. She is a good ally unto all, for immortality is in her, and in communing with her in speech, a good report. Wherefore, I spake with the Lord, and besought Him, and with my whole heart I said: God of my fathers and Lord of mercy, Who hast created all things by Thy word, and fashioned man by Thy wisdom, that he should have dominion over the creatures which Thou hast made, and order the world according to equity and righteousness: give me wisdom which sitteth by Thy throne, and reject me not from among Thy children, for I am Thy servant and the son of Thy handmaid. O, send her from the heavens, out of Thy holy habitation, and from the throne of Thy glory, that, being with me, she may teach me what is well-pleasing in Thy sight, may guide me to understanding and preserve me in her glory. For the thoughts of mortal men are miserable, and their ponderings sinful.

A READING FROM THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

When the righteous is praised, the people are glad; for his memorial is immortality, because it is known unto God, and to men. For his soul pleased the Lord. Love ye wisdom, O men, and live; desire her, and ye shall be instructed. For the beginning of her is love, and the keeping of her laws. Honor wisdom, that ye may reign for evermore, I will tell you, and will not hide the mysteries of God from you. For He is the guide to wisdom and the Director of the wise, and the Artisan of all understanding and craft. In her is a Spirit understanding and holy, the brightness of light everlasting and the image of the goodness of God. Friends of God and prophets doth she make. She is more beautiful than the sun, and above all the order of stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it. She hath delivered from pain those who please her, and hath guided them in right paths. She hath given them knowledge of holy things; she hath kept them safe from those who lay in wait, and hath given them a mighty contest, that all may know that godliness is stronger than all. Vice shall never prevail against wisdom, nor shall judgment omit to denounce the wicked. For the ungodly said, reasoning within themselves, but not aright: Let us oppress the righteous man and take no pity on his holiness; neither let us spare the ancient gray hairs of the aged. For let our strength be the law of justice., Let us' therefore lie in wait for the righteous, because he is displeasing unto us and is clear contrary to our doings. He upbraideth us with our offending the law, and denounceth us for our offenses against our upbringing. He professeth to have knowledge of God, and calleth himself the child of God. He is for us a reproof to our thoughts, and is grievous for us even to behold; for his life is not like other men's, and his ways are of another fashion. We are held by him to be an object of mockery; he abstaineth from our ways as from filthiness; he pronounceth the end of the just to be blessed. Let us see if his words be true; and let us prove what shall happen in the end of him. Let us examine him with mockery and torture, that we may know his meekness and test his guilelessness. Let us condemn him to a shameful death, for by his own words shall he be visited. Such things did they imagine, and were deceived; for their own wickedness blinded them, and they comprehended not the mysteries of God, neither understood they that Thou alone art God, Who hast authority over life and death, Who savest in time of tribulation, and deliverest from all evil, Who art compassionate and merciful, and bestowest grace upon Thy saints, and Who dost oppose the prideful with Thine own arm.

At the Litiya, these Stichera, in Tone II:

Come, ye assemblies of the faithful, and let us clap our hands to psalms, chanting hymns to the consolers of the grieving, the fervent intercessors for all in every place, who pray to the Lord for sinners: the holy hierarchs Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, the boast of the land of Russia, the adornment of all the priesthood, who are truly rivers of mercy, the lovers of the divine humility of Christ Who hath granted great mercy to the world.

As ye possess boldness before the Lord, O most sacred and holy hierarchs and pastors, ye confirmation of the faithful, pray that those who with love celebrate your most honored memory be delivered from every evil circumstance and from foreign invasion, through your supplications to the Master.

O beacons of knowledge for the Church, emulators of the Trinity, primates of Russia, who have driven back the gloom of deception and illumined the world with the light of Orthodoxy: ye have been deemed worthy to become partakers of divine glory. Pray ye unceasingly to Christ God, that He grant us great mercy.

Glory ..., in Tone V:

With the trumpet let us sound forth hymns! Let us leap up in festivity and join chorus, rejoicing, for the feast of supplication to the wise hierarchs. Let kings and princes come together and clap their hands in hymnody to the luminaries of the Church of Christ. Ye pastors and teachers of the Good Shepherd, assembling, let us praise the wise initiates of the mysteries of God, the luminous beacons, the radiant lamps, the pillars of the Church, the mighty foundations of the Faith, the swallows announcing the divine spring of salvation, the trumpets sounding forth in music, uttering praise in divine hymns! And let us say: O holy wonderworkers Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, go ye quickly before us, and deliver us from foreign invasion and civil strife; and save your flock by your supplications.

Now & ever ..., Theotokion in Tone V:

Let us sound the trumpet of hymnody! For the Queen of all, who is both Mother and Virgin, hath been revealed from on high, and with blessings crowneth those who hymn her. Let those who exercise dominion assemble and in hymns praise the Queen who hath given birth unto the King Who before was well-pleased, in His love for mankind, to deliver those held fast by death. Ye pastors and teachers, assembling, let us praise the most pure Mother of the good Shepherd, the golden lamp-stand, the Light-bearing cloud, her who is more spacious than the heavens, the animate ark, the fiery throne of the Master, the golden jar which received the Manna, the gate of the Word which was shut, the refuge of all Christians; and praising her with divinely eloquent hymns, let us say thus: O palace of the Word, vouchsafe the kingdom of heaven unto us, the lowly, for naught is impossible for thy mediation.

On the Aposticha, these Stichera, in Tone II:

With what hymns of beauty shall we praise the holy hierarchs of Christ, the most splendid preachers of the Gospel, the preservers of the Church and helpers of the land of Russia, the guides to the light of the knowledge of God, the allies of faithful Orthodox rulers? By their supplications may Christ, Who hath great mercy, bring low the arrogance of the enemy.

Verse: Precious in the sight of the Lord * is the death of His saints.

With what vigilant mouths shall we praise the divinely wise hierarchs, the splendid adornment of the Church of Christ, the crowns of the priesthood, the rule of piety, the divine well-springs of inexhaustible healings, the outpouring of spiritual gifts, the rivers of many miracles which gladden the land of Russia by their flow: Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, the allies of all faithful Orthodox rulers? By their supplications may Christ, Who hath great mercy, bring low the arrogance of the enemy.

Verse: Thy priests shall be clothed with righteousness, * and Thy righteous shall rejoice.

With what embellished voices shall we hymn the holy hierarchs Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, wondrous in miracles, who were hallowed from their earliest childhood, the immovable pillars of the Church, which dwell together with the incorporeal hosts, the restoration of justice, the helpers of the oppressed, the physicians who heal the ailing without fee? By their supplications hath Christ granted unity, peace and great mercy to the Churches.

Glory ..., in Tone III:

O most honored and holy hierarchs, most blessed fathers and wonderworkers, favored ones of Christ, primates of Russia, Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, who shone forth in the prophetic life: unceasingly ministering to the Savior with the angels, ye have been deemed worthy of the gifts of the apostles. Pray ye, that we be delivered from every transgression, that Christ grant peace and great mercy to our souls.

Now & ever ..., Theotokion, in Tone III:

By the will of the Father and without seed * thou didst conceive through the divine Spirit the Son of God * Who hath existed from the Father without a mother from before the ages, * and Who for our sake came forth from Thee in the flesh without a father, * and Him hast thou suckled as a babe. * Wherefore, cease not to beseech Him,  that our souls be delivered from tribulations.

Troparion, in Tone IV:

O primates of Russia, * true preservers of the Traditions of the apostles, * unshakable pillars, instructors in Orthodoxy, * Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes; * entreat the Master of all, * that He grant peace to the whole world  and great mercy to our souls.

Song of ascents, the first antiphon of Tone IV:

Prokeimenon, in Tone IV: Precious in the sight of the Lord * is the death of His saints.

Verse: What shall I render unto the Lord for all that He hath rendered unto me?

Let every breath praise the Lord

Gospel according to John, § 36 (JN. 10: 9-16)

The Lord spake unto His disciples saying: I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep. I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

After Psalm 50, this Sticheron, in Tone VI:

Divine grace overshadoweth the most precious shrines of your relics, O most blessed ones. Wherefore, hastening to the scent of the myrrh of your miracles, we draw forth healings for the infirm. O holy hierarchs of Christ Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, entreat Christ God on behalf of our souls.

Assaults of the passions and many griefs and tribulations are destroying my soul. Bring peace to it, O holy hierarchs, by your supplications to God, and turn it from sorrow to joy.

We entreat you, O holy wonderworkers Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes: dispel our spiritual turmoil and the tempest; of grief, and grant us serenity by your supplications of God.

As ye were right noble emulators of the good, and have been enriched by God with miracles, render help unto all, praying to God Who glorifieth you, His favored ones.

Theotokion: O Virgin Theotokos, help us who experience trials in cruel infirmities and the terrible distress of barbarian invasions; and transform our grief into joy.

Sedalion, in Tone IV:

O holy fathers, to the Master of all stretch forth your hands with which ye labored well, and pleased God, and gave abundantly to those in need; and open your lips for prayer, wherewith ye glorified God and instructed the people in divine knowledge. Hasten ye, therefore, to our aid, and by your supplications to God deliver us from the tribulations and evils which assail us, and from all necessity. (Twice)

Glory ..., Now & ever ..., Theotokion in Tone IV:

O all-immaculate Virgin * who hast given birth to the transcendent God: * do thou unceasingly entreat Him with the incorporeal ones, * that He grant forgiveness of transgressions * and correction of life before the end, * to us who, as is meet, hymn thee with faith and love,  O thou who alone art all-hymned.

ODE IV

Irmos: O Lord, I have heard the mystery of Thy dispensation; * I have considered Thy works, * and I have glorified Thy Divinity.

ODE VI

Deliver your city from death, corruption and captivity to barbarians, and preserve it from fiery conflagration by your supplications to God.

We know you to be the helpers and steadfast preservers of our city, O holy hierarchs of the Lord; wherefore, fleeing unto you, we receive mercy and are delivered from tribulations.

We have acquired you as a rampart and a haven, O holy wonderworkers, a spacious place amid our sorrows, the confirmation and salvation of our souls.

Theotokion: I know thee to be the mediatrix of life and our steadfast preserver, O Virgin, who dost ever disperse the tumult of temptations and fend off the assaults of the demons, wherefore I entreat thee to deliver me from the passions, O all-immaculate one.

Kontakion, in Tone III:

Spec. Mel.: "Today the Virgin ...":

Piously did ye live amid holy hierarchs; * and ye guided the people toward divine knowledge, * and were well pleasing unto God. * Wherefore, ye have been glorified by Him with incorruption and miracles,  as disciples of the grace of God.

Ikos: O primates of Russia, who sat in the place of the first-called apostle, great luminaries Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, emulators of the Trinity, instructors in Orthodoxy: ye lived in the world and enlightened the universe with your teaching. Wherefore, ye have become heirs to the kingdom of heaven and have been glorified with incorruption and miracles, as disciples of the grace of God.

ODE VII

Irmos: The Children of Judaea, * who of old came to dwell in Babylon, * trampled underfoot the flame of the furnace * through their faith in the Trinity, * as they sang: 'O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou.'

As Thou didst desire to arrange our salvation, O Savior, Thou dost glorify with miracles Thy favored ones who cry out to Thee: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

Him Whose will is mercy, to Whom the Virgin Mother gaveth birth, entreat ye, O holy hierarchs of Christ Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, that from our transgressions, from misfortunes and evils, He deliver us who cry aloud: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

A treasury of salvation and a well-spring of healing were ye, O favorites of God, and instructors in repentance for those who cry aloud: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

A wealth of healings do ye pour forth upon those who have recourse to you, the favorites of God, and who with faith hymn and supremely exalt Christ throughout the ages.

Theotokion: Thou dost drive away assaults of temptations and the incursions of the passions, O Virgin, that we may hymn and exalt supremely thee, the pure one, throughout the ages.

ODE IX

Irmos: Saved by thee, O pure Virgin, * we confess thee to be truly the Theotokos, * and together with the choirs of the bodiless hosts * thee do we magnify.

Spurn not the torrents of our tears, we entreat you, O holy fathers Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, and grant consolation unto all who call you blessed.

Fill our hearts with joy through your prayers unto God, O holy fathers and fervent helpers.

O most radiant luminaries, emulators of the Trinity, Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, by your labors and struggles the gloom of ignorance hath been dispelled from us who right faithfully call you blessed.

Theotokion: With the rays of thy light illumine those who right faithfully confess thee to be the Theotokos, O Virgin, dispelling the gloom of ignorance and saving us from grievous misfortunes.

Glory ..., Now & ever ..., Theotokion:

With unceasing hymns we call thee blessed, O Virgin Theotokos, who received One of the Trinity in thy womb and bore the transcendent Word in thy divine arms, without change or alteration.

On the Praises, 6 Stichera, in Tone VIII:

Spec. Mel.: "O most glorious wonder ...":

Possessed of a merciful soul, * a pure mind, a heart untroubled, * a blameless faith, love unfeigned, * excellent doctrine and the hierarchal dignity, * thou hast now been admitted * to the choirs of holy hierarchs in the heavens. * Wherefore, we honor thee, O holy hierarch Peter, * and with sacred hymns  we all piously call thee blessed.

O most honored father, right wondrous and most wise Alexis, * thou didst please God in the monastic life. * God chose thee first from thy youth as a pastor and great teacher for the reason-endowed sheep. * Thou wast revealed to be an instructor of priests * and a most radiant star for all the land of Russia, * illumining with miracles all who with faith fall down before the shrine of thy relics. * Wherefore, the choir of primates hath received thee. * With them offer up supplication, * entreating remission of sins for thy flock.

O father Jonah, divinely wise hierarch, * having loved Christ from childhood * thou didst cleave unto His love; * and having through Him illumined thy heart with the divine rays * of the Most holy Spirit, * thou didst truly become radiant of countenance. * Wherefore, grant thou those petitions which conduce to salvation * to those who have recourse to thy temple,  and entreat Christ God, that our souls be saved.

Thou didst finish the race * and keep the faith, * O blessed and holy hierarch Philip; * for which cause Christ hath crowned thee * with a splendid crown of righteousness * and adorned thy confession, O right wondrous one. * Wherefore, having received a heavenly inheritance, * beseech the Savior  on behalf of those who hymn thy memory.

In Tone VII: May the judgment that is written be done with hymns, and may this glory belong to the great Hermogenes, for he was manifest as a lover of Orthodoxy, and a protector of all Russia, overshadowing it as with the wings of an eagle.

In Tone VIII: O most honored and right wondrous fathers Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes, who increased the talent entrusted to you, ye have been deemed worthy of the joy of your Lord; and stand now with the choirs of the holy hierarchs, adorned with the grace of divine splendor. Wherefore, with faith and love we praise your most radiant memory, magnifying Christ Who hath glorified His favored ones.

Glory ..., in Tone VI:

O good and faithful servants, good husbandmen of the vineyard of Christ, ye bore the burden of the day, increasing the talent given you, and did not envy those who came after you. Wherefore, the gates of heaven have been opened unto you. Enter ye into the joy of Christ the Master, praying on our behalf, O holy teachers.

Now & ever ..., Theotokion, in Tone VI:

○ Theotokos, thou art the true vine * that hast budded forth for us the Fruit of life. * Thee do we entreat: * Pray thou, O Lady, * with the holy apostles,  that He have mercy upon our souls.

AT LITURGY

On the Beatitudes, 8 Troparia: 4 from Ode III and 4 from Ode VI of the canon of the holy hierarchs.

After God, ye have been the helpers and protectors of Moscow, O favorites of God. Guide us to the haven of salvation; for ye are a wall of defense for the faithful.
(Twice)

We entreat you, O holy wonderworkers Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes: dispel our spiritual turmoil and the tempest; of grief, and grant us serenity by your supplications of God.

As ye were right noble emulators of the good, and have been enriched by God with miracles, render help unto all, praying to God Who glorifieth you, His favored ones.

Deliver your city from death, corruption and captivity to barbarians, and preserve it from fiery conflagration by your supplications to God.

We know you to be the helpers and steadfast preservers of our city, O holy hierarchs of the Lord; wherefore, fleeing unto you, we receive mercy and are delivered from tribulations.

We have acquired you as a rampart and a haven, O holy wonderworkers, a spacious place amid our sorrows, the confirmation and salvation of our souls.

Theotokion: I know thee to be the mediatrix of life and our steadfast preserver, O Virgin, who dost ever disperse the tumult of temptations and fend off the assaults of the demons, wherefore I entreat thee to deliver me from the passions, O all-immaculate one.

Troparion, in Tone IV:

O primates of Russia, * true preservers of the Traditions of the apostles, * unshakable pillars, instructors in Orthodoxy, * Peter, Alexis, Jonah, Philip and Hermogenes; * entreat the Master of all, * that He grant peace to the whole world  and great mercy to our souls.

Kontakion, in Tone III:

Piously did ye live amid holy hierarchs; * and ye guided the people toward divine knowledge, * and were well pleasing unto God. * Wherefore, ye have been glorified by Him with incorruption and miracles,  as disciples of the grace of God.

Prokeimenon, in Tone VII: Precious in the sight of the Lord * is the death of His saints.

Verse: What shall I render unto the Lord for all that He hath rendered unto me?

EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS, §335 [HEB. 13: 17-21]

Brethren: Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you. Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly. But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner. Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Alleluia, in Tone II: Thy priests shall be clothed with righteousness, and Thy righteous shall rejoice.

Verse: The mouth of the righteous shall meditate wisdom, and his tongue shall speak of judgment.

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW, §11 [MT. 5: 14-19]

The Lord said unto His disciples: Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill. For verily I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

Communion Verse: Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous; praise is meet for the upright.
